

Character: Nancy

Nancy is a member of Fagin's gang and works for him. She makes her money with stealing valuable things. She is the lover and eventually also Victim of Bill Sikes. At the beginning of the book, it seems like Nancy is an unsympathetic character as she kidnaps Oliver.

After a few chapters Nancy starts to care about other people. She sees her childhood in the life of Oliver and doesn't want Oliver to end like her. Nobody ever cared or loved her, the same with Oliver. She doesn't want Fagin to find Oliver because then Oliver would probably get killed or would have to be the slave of Fagin.

Eventually she sacrifices her own life in order to save Oliver and she gets killed by her lover Bill Sikes.

In the end of the book, Sikes and Fagin die and Oliver gets free, just because Nancy acted so selfless.

One memorable Moment...

was when she kidnapped Oliver because everybody had a wrong opinion about her.
